MYSTERY

In the Burdick Case May Be Cleared Away by the Pennell Inquest at Buffalo

Buffalo, N. Y., April 8—The inquest into the death of Arthur E. Pennell, which is scheduled to begin next Friday before Judge Murphy, will be more in the nature of a reopening of the inquiry into the Burdick murder mystery than to determine whether Pennell's death was due to accident or a deliberate suicide.

District Attorney Coatsworth has announced that he will subpoena J. Frederick Pennell, administrator of the Pennell estate, and brother of the dead man, Thomas Pennell, attorney for the estate, and Wallace Thayer, who was Pennell's confidential friend and advisor for years.

"I intend at the Pennell inquest virtually to reopen the Burdick inquest. During that inquiry I shall endeavor, with the consent of the Court, to bring out as much information as possible, tending to clear up the Burdick mystery. I believe that the evidence brought out in the Pennell inquest will be of value as bearing on the murder," said District Attorney Coatsworth.

Pennell's lawyers will be called to testify and make known the contents of secret papers addressed to friends and relatives of the suspected slayer of the rich Buffalo society man.

This was the only vote cast for mayor in the corporation, and Jennings' election will undoubtedly be confirmed by the election board.

Time Harrison Is Elected

Contest In Chicago On Tuesday.

EARLY RETURNS WERE IN FAVOR OF STEWART

BUT DEMOCRATS WON THE DAY

Mayor Harrison's Majority Being 6948—The Balance of the Ticket is Mixed

Chicago, April 8—Carter H. Harrison was elected mayor of Chicago for the fourth time, his majority over Graeme Stewart, the Republican candidate, being 6948. The total vote was Harrison 146,323; Stewart 139,375; Cruice, 9,999; Breckton 11,212; Haines, 2,848. The early returns were in favor of Stewart and at one time he was 2,000 ahead, but the later returns cut down

CARTER H. HARRISON. In the first precinct of the 21st ward in which both Harrison and Stewart reside, the vote was Harrison 41, Stewart 101. In the last mayoralty election the vote was Harrison 82, Hanecy 54.

The chief issue in the campaign was the traction question, both candidates favoring ultimate municipal ownership of the street railway. Stewart advocated an immediate improvement of conditions, making the best terms possible with the companies. Harrison recommended a delay until the city had obtained what it desired from the conditions, making the best terms possible with the companies. Harrison recommended a delay until the city had obtained what it desired from the companies. Mayor Harrison said:

"I regard the present election as less of a personal victory for myself than as a victory for municipal ownership, a victory which should lead to the development of public national as well as municipal utilities. JUSTICE

For Dreyfus at Last—The Celebrated Case in France May Yet be Reopened.

Paris, April 8—It seems that the debate in the Chamber of Deputies which resulted by a vote of 281 to 228 in the invalidation of the election of the Nationalist Deputy Syveton, is likely also to lead to the reopening of the Dreyfus case, and perhaps to the rehabilitation of the former prisoner of Devil's Island. This is mainly due to two facts brought out by the Socialist leader, M. Jaures, in the course of the debate. One is a falsified document bearing alleged annotations by the German Emperor, which were forged, and which helped to convict Dreyfus, and the other is that the letter written by General Pellieux to M. Cavaignac, when the latter was War Minister in 1898, was suppressed. This letter was written just after the discovery of Colonel Henry's forgery.

LED

By a Woman the Rioters

Clash With Police at Lowell, Mass.

GREEK MILL WORKERS NOW ON A STRIKE

MET AND TROUBLE FOLLOWED

Urged to Prevent Others From Laboring—For a Time Discord Reigned at Lowell

Lowell, Mass., April 8—A body of police officers, marching in solid front from curb to curb, drove a thousand noisy Greek mill workers through the streets of Lowell for nearly a mile last night and prevented what might have developed into a riot, growing out of the return to work of a number of ring spinners on the Lawrence hosiery, who left work a week ago in sympathy with the strike order of the textile council.

The disturbance in front of the gates of the Lawrence corporation was the first breach of the peace since the shut-down.

The police realize that it was a narrow escape from a serious clash between strike sympathizers and themselves, for once orders were given to the officers to draw their night sticks.

A woman figured prominently in the demonstration, leading a great body of men through the streets to the point where the police were encountered.

Confusion then came and the unknown woman was lost in the crowd. Yesterday was the Greeks' usual holiday, the anniversary of the Greek federation, and in the colony was celebrated in a lively way.

The trouble had its inception in an attempt of the Greeks to hold a mass meeting in the heart of the colony. The police stopped this. Then the Greeks went to the south common, where the mass meeting was held. From the same spot as President Roosevelt addressed an immense throng last summer, Greek orators urged the men around them to keep up a stiff fight for the ten per cent increase. Constantin, the Greek society president, said to his countrymen:

"Don't go to work until you get your rights. Stay out as long as anyone stays out and don't let anyone go to work until you all go to work, until you all get your raise."

Enthusiasm was shown by the loud cheering. After the mass meeting broke up the Greeks and the people, who by this time numbered thousands, drifted down town and finally as it by common consent headed toward the mill section, chiefly toward the Tremont and Suffolk and Lawrence corporations. Superintendent Moffatt of the city police, however, had anticipated some sort of gathering, for word had gone about that at noon a large number of striking ring spinners had returned to the Lawrence.

Rome, April 8—Notwithstanding the fact that a general strike was called for today, many of the shops are open and doing business. Public conveyances however, are idle, with the exception of a few trams, which are being worked by municipal guards. Wealthy residents of the city, fearing the strike will bring about many inconveniences, are moving to the country. The strike took on a more serious aspect as the day advanced. Attempts were made by the strikers to cut the gas and water pipes, and to stop work at the electric light plants. In one section of the city soldiers have been compelled to fire on the rioters to secure quiet. The King, who is at his shooting box, has been advised not to return to the city until the disturbances are over.

The Figures of Newark's Election

The splendid showing made by the Democratic party of Newark on Monday is certainly most gratifying in all its results. One of the results to which we are proud to call attention is the high average of the pluralities of the Democratic candidates, as indicated by the pluralities received by the leading candidates on the ticket for all the officers wherein there was only one to be elected. The majorities for these leading officers were as follows:

- Crilly, Mayor 79
- Rosell, President of Council.....256
- Maurath, City Auditor337
- Fulton, City Treasurer302
- Smythe, City Solicitor471
- Average of the five, 289.

As there was a larger number of Democratic scratched tickets than Republican scratched tickets that contained the name of Quinney for Mayor, it is shown that the vote of the Labor candidate cut into the vote naturally for Crilly more than it did into the vote for Forry. Mr. Quinney's vote was nearly 100 greater than any other Labor candidate, and these votes came principally from Democratic scratched tickets. They, therefore, came from voters who would have cast their ballots for Crilly in preference to Forry had there been no Labor ticket in the field.

It is also true that a large majority of the entire number of Labor voters are today better pleased with the election of Mayor Crilly than they would have been had Forry won.

RECLAIMING ARID LANDS

Details of Plan For Converting Deserts Into Farms.

ONE MILLION ACRES INVOLVED.

Secretary Hitchcock Has Approved Five Irrigation Projects—No Sale of the Reclaimed Land to Be Made to Any One but Bona Fide Residents.

After nine months of careful investigation the geological survey has decided upon and Secretary Hitchcock has approved five irrigation projects to be developed under the terms of the arid land reservation act of June, 1902, says William B. Curtis, the Chicago Record-Herald Washington correspondent. These projects are to be located at Sweetwater dam, Wyoming; Gunnison tunnel, Colorado; Truckee and Carson rivers, Nevada; Milk river and St. Mary's lake, Montana; and Tonto creek, Arizona. Roughly estimated, they will make possible the irrigation of 1,000,000 acres of land at a cost of $7,500,000, an average of $7.50 an acre. As a matter of fact, however, much of the area that may be reached by water is unsuitable or unavailable for cultivation. It is not expected that more than 60 per cent of the total will be found worth irrigating, which will increase the average cost to something like $12.50 an acre. The cost is eventually to be paid by the owners of the land reclaimed in ten annual installments. That is the policy of the government. Much of the land is already in the hands of private individuals, and undoubtedly that which still remains will be taken up by settlers as soon as the plans are made known, but the government will require pledges that the cost of the reclamation will be refunded according to the provisions of the law.

The irrigation bureau of the geological survey will encounter many complications and legal difficulties in securing reservoir sites and rights of way, and the riparian laws of several states must be observed in every particular. The agents of the government understand that the reclamation scheme is still in the experimental state and have been proceeding with the greatest caution in order that the first step may be successful and attended by no serious errors. In selecting locations the first consideration is to insure a return of the costs of construction to the government, which depends entirely upon the availability of the land for cultivation and the disposition of settlers to own or occupy it. They will not venture upon any estimate or prediction as to the time required to complete the five projects mentioned. They must feel their way and modify their plans as difficulties and obstacles may develop.

Sweetwater dam is to be located on Sweetwater river at Devil's gap, forty miles west of the town of Casper and a similar distance north of Rawlins, Wyo. The total area to be reached by irrigation is 100,000 acres, and originally it was supposed that nearly all of it was susceptible of cultivation, but subsequent investigations have discovered large patches of alkali which will have to be eliminated from the estimates. Detailed inspection will determine the exact amount of lands that may be reclaimed, and only those suitable for agriculture will be included in the plan.

The Gunnison tunnel scheme is expected to reclaim nearly 100,000 acres near Montrose in central Colorado, but upon closer inspection this area will undoubtedly be cut down.

In Nevada it is proposed to divert water from Lake Tahoe, California, and its outlet, the Truckee river, into the Humboldt valley, and supply settlers in the vicinity of Reno. It is believed that nearly 200,000 acres may be reclaimed there.

The Milk river project in northern Montana is expected to reclaim nearly 500,000 acres in the vicinity of Malta and Glasgow, but this enterprise is attended by serious complications, because a part of the water supply comes from Canada.

At Tonto creek, eighty miles above Phoenix, Ariz., immense impounding reservoirs are to be located to provide a supply of water to irrigate about 200,000 acres in Salt River valley, which is already thickly settled. There is a private irrigation system already in operation, which makes it necessary for the government to establish its source of supply at a higher level than the canals already built.

The land necessary for ditches and reservoirs, which is now owned by private individuals, must be secured by condemnation proceedings. Public land within the area to be irrigated cannot be entered except under the homestead laws in tracts of not less than 40 nor more than 150 acres. When the plans are finally decided upon, the securing of the interior is required by the law to give public notice of the location of lands to be irrigated, the number of acres that may be entered by any one person, the charge per acre for the water and the number of annual payments required. No sale can be made to any but bona fide residents. At least one-half of every entry must be irrigated, and the reclamation charges assessed against the claim must be paid before a patent can be issued.

Value of American Fuel to Hawaii.

Hawaiian fuel has heretofore been coal from America chiefly. Within a year this will be entirely superseded with fuel from California, with a saving of 25 to 50 per cent in cost. Contracts have already been signed for the delivery of 70,000 barrels of fuel oil per annum to Hawaii, and within a year the consumption will be 1,000,000 barrels per annum.

BEECHER'S LOST COIN.

Preacher's Spirit Tells Dr. Funk Where It Is, and He Finds It. Has spiritualism a new convert in Dr. I. K. Funk, the venerable writer on subjects religious and head of the publishing house of Funk & Wagnalls?

While Dr. Funk will not admit in so many words that he believes in communication with the spirit world he will not deny that he recently received a message from the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, says the New York Evening World. He said that he was making investigations and would later be prepared to talk more intelligently on the subject.

A few days ago Dr. Funk attended a spiritistic meeting at which a woman acted as medium. She went into a trance and soon said that Dr. Funk's old friend, Mr. Beecher, wanted to speak to him.

"Why don't you return that coin you borrowed from me thirty years ago?" the medium, inspired by Mr. Beecher's spirit, said in Mr. Beecher's well known jovial manner.

"What coin?" Dr. Funk asked, astonished.

"Why, the widow's mite," said the medium, speaking for Mr. Beecher. "You used it as a model for illustration in one of your books."

"I returned it to you years ago," said Dr. Funk.

"Pardon me, but you are mistaken," the spirit insisted. "If you will look in your safe, in the compartment in the lower right hand corner, you will find my old coin under some papers."

Dr. Funk went to his office the next morning and asked a clerk to look under a bundle of papers in a small safe in his office. The coin was not there. He called in an old clerk, who was with him when the coin was borrowed. He said he was sure Dr. Funk had returned the money.

Then they went together to a larger safe, and in exactly the spot described by the medium they found the widow's mite. In some way the story got out of the office, and Dr. Funk's friends called upon him to explain.

He admitted that the story was based substantially on fact.

ADMIRER OF MCGOVERN.

President Called Watchman at 3 A. M. to Learn Result of Vicious Fight.

There was a commotion in the White House at 3 o'clock the other morning, says the Washington correspondent of the New York Press. The night watchman was dozing awaiting the dawn when suddenly he was aroused by the "buzzer" from the president's room.

"I say, there," exclaimed the president through the tube when, after jumping up frightened, the watchman had grabbed the receiver, "call up the telegraph office and inquire who won the boxing bout in San Francisco."

The president was disappointed when he learned that Young Corbett had conquered Terry McGovern. He has been a great admirer of the Brooklyn boy.

Timothy D. Sullivan on his first call at the White House, soon after Mr. Roosevelt became president, was nearly taken off his feet when on grasping his hand the president exclaimed, "Tim, how did Terry McGovern come to lose that fight?" And it takes a good shock to make "Big Tim" lose his breath.

NOVEL GUESSING GAME.

Guests Try to Identify Notables From Their Baby Photos.

Society people who have been wondering why Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth of Genesee, N. Y., who have a fine house on Dupont circle, Washington, have been so eager to get copies of photographs of well known Washingtonians when they were babies found out the other night, says the New York World.

The Wadsworths gave what they called a "baby party" to 250 guests. A white screen was stretched across one end of the ballroom and the baby pictures thrown on the screen by a stereopticon. The game was to guess the identity of the baby.

The first picture shown was that of the president when he was one year old. Nobody guessed that. When a cherubic youngster followed, half a dozen thought it was Mrs. James G. Blaine, Jr. In reality it was a picture of the infant Chauncey M. Depew.

ROOSEVELT ON TRIPLETS.

"That's the Kind of American Citizenship," He Tells Their Sire.

George Cunningham of Gloucester City, N. J., who recently became the father of triplets, all boys, has just received this letter from President Roosevelt:

Washington, March 21.
Mr. George Cunningham:
My dear Sir: I congratulate you and Mrs. Cunningham. That is the kind of American citizenship in which I believe. I send you three photographs of myself for the three new Cunningham boys and my compliments to Mrs. Cunningham. Very truly,
THEODORE ROOSEVELT, President.

Dr. William L. De Lap, the attending physician, had informed the president about the triplets.

RHEUMATISM
An All the Year Round Disease.

Rheumatism does not come and go with winter time always; in fact some suffer more during the Spring and Summer than at any other season. When the blood is charged with Uric Acid, Alkali and other irritating poisons, then the system is in the right condition for Rheumatism to develop, and an attack is liable to come at any time, Winter or Summer. Rheumatism, because it attacks different parts of the body, and is sudden or slow in its action, is given various names such as acute and chronic, muscular, articular, inflammatory, mercurial and sciatic, but it is the same old acid blood that causes all. Some are constant sufferers, while others have only occasional spells of Rheumatism, but either kind is wearing upon the constitution, and in time produces stiffness in the muscles and joints, and sometimes the acids thrown off by the blood settle upon the valves of the heart and ends suddenly and fatally.

It won't do to let Rheumatism run on. It is a dangerous disease, and you can never tell where it is going to strike. Home remedies, plasters, liniments and such things as produce counter-irritation, are soothing and may relieve the pain temporarily, but the polluted, acid blood cannot be reached by external applications. Rheumatism must be treated through the blood, and no remedy brings such prompt and lasting relief as S. S. S. It attacks the disease in the blood, neutralizes the acids, and removes all irritating poisons and effete matter from the system.

S. S. S. strengthens and enriches the thin acid blood, and, as it circulates through the body, the corroding, gnawing poisons and acid deposits are dislodged and washed out of the muscles and joints, and the sufferer is happily relieved from the discomforts and misery of Rheumatism.

S. S. S. is a purely vegetable remedy, does not contain any Potash or mineral of any kind, and can be taken with safety by old and young. Rheumatic sufferers who write us about their case will receive valuable aid and helpful advice from our physicians, for which no charge is made. We will mail free our special book on Rheumatism, which is the result of years of practical experience in treating this disease. It contains much interesting information about all kinds of Rheumatism.

CUTTING AFFAIR

In Which One St. Louisville Boy Is Badly Injured By Another--Trouble Started In a Barber Shop Quarrel--Sparks Missing.

Word has just been received from St. Louisville in the northern part of Hickling county, telling of a serious cutting affair that took place there late Saturday evening. J. Bullock, a young son of Henry Bullock, was badly cut by Altha Sparks, the 17 year old son of Samuel Sparks.

The young men were in Behou's barber shop and it is said that the Sparks boy had been drinking a little. It is alleged that some one struck Sparks who thought that it was Bullock who had hit him. A quarrel ensued and this resulted in a struggle. When finally the boys were ordered out of the shop.

It is said that Sparks then ran toward Bullock with an open knife and made a desperate assault upon him, cutting his face on the left side from the forehead to the neck, stabbing him twice in the back, and cutting his arm at the elbow.

None of the cuts are deep save the stab on one arm, but no apprehension is felt over the young man's recovery.

Sparks disappeared after the affair, but it is claimed he returned later and endeavored to settle the matter with Bullock, so that no arrest would be made. It is claimed that Bullock refused to guarantee him that no arrest would follow and in consequence Sparks is again missing.

WORK BEGINS

On Construction of Electric Road From Newark to Zanesville--Big Force of Men to Be Put to Work April 13.

Active work on the construction of the electric road to Zanesville was begun at Hanover on Tuesday and on the 13th of April a full force of men will be put to work, the construction to proceed in both directions from Hanover. The F. H. Blodgett Company has the contract for grading, clearing, excavation, masonry, bridges, etc., and fixing the road bed ready for the rails to be laid. This work is under the personal supervision of F. H. Blodgett, and during the next few months he expects to employ 250 teams and 500 laborers, the contract calling for the completed work by September 1, when the road will be ready for use.

The line should be in operation by the first of next December and all work will be pushed as rapidly as possible to that end.

The F. H. Blodgett company are contractors for construction work on electric roads, the home office being in Wheeling, where the company is now building the new city electric railway line. They have a finely equipped local office in Room 36, Tubbs House block, where J. N. Allston, secretary and treasurer, is in immediate charge. Mr. Blodgett, the president, being most of the time out on the work. Mr. Allston's assistant is Fred S. McAllister.

Messrs. Blodgett and Allston are courteous gentlemen and thoroughly well posted men in their line of work. All they now want is plenty of teams and laborers and the work will be handily pushed to completion.

PURE MILK

Plant Being Equipped by W. H. Davis & Son, Proprietors of Licking County Creamery.

In a short time Newark will number among her enterprises a new one, the necessity for which has become more and more urgent during the past few years, as the size of the city has increased. A correct milk supply is a vital question.

Pure milk properly cared for and distributed, means one of the most sanitary and satisfactory conditions which a city can enjoy. Modern methods as applied to the handling of milk are just as wonderfully progressed beyond the old time way, as are all the ways of today beyond those of the past.

W. H. Davis & Son will have a milk depot at 61 North Third street, at which place milk and cream of a very high grade will be constantly for sale. Their creamery on Pine street in the West End is being equipped with such additional machinery as is necessary to pasteurize, clarify and aerate this milk and cream. These being the three recognized essential processes toward making cream or milk wholesome and pure, tending to kill all disease producing germs and lend keeping qualities. Delivery wagons will be placed on the streets, delivering bottled milk and cream of this superior character to all who desire it.

Many of the progressive cities in the state are already equipped with an establishment of this kind. The rest will follow. It is something which every city ought by all means to have.

"Hobson's Choice"

Tobias Hobson was the first man in England who let out hackney horses.

When anyone wished to hire a horse, he was obliged to take the one standing nearest the stable door--he had no selection. Hence the old proverb, so familiar now, was born:

"To elect there is but one-- 'Tis Hobson's choice--take that or none."

Before the introduction of Uneeda Biscuit buying soda crackers in a paper bag, was like hiring Hobson's horses--there was no choice. In kind and quality there was but one--take that or else take none. Whether stale, soggy, dirty or old--'twas ever the same "Hobson's Choice."

Uneeda Biscuit in In-er-seal Packages have revolutionized this old method and set an example that has received the stamp of public approval, as the sale of over 200,000,000 5 cent packages attest.

The In-er-seal Package insures their quality, cleanliness and crispness, because it is airtight, moisture proof, dust proof and germ proof.

....MARRIAGE[Original.]
"Do you think, father, that hasty marriages always turn out badly?"
"Well, no, not always. I know a case where a marriage that was not intended turned out very well.""Not intended? How could that have been?"
"There was a young fellow (he was just nineteen years old and I'll call him Bob) who had made up his mind that his lot would be bachelorhood.
You see, his father and mother had married young, his father had died young, and, the mother being only nineteen years older than Bob, they were more like brother and sister than mother and son. For this reason Bob scouted marriage—for him.""Bob was reading law. One day he went to court, as was his custom, to familiarize himself with the methods of procedure. It was a court of chancery. The case being tried before the judge was a claim of a young girl to the estate of an uncle who had recently died. The girl was in court, and a prettier little piece of the Lord's handiwork never was turned out. At least Bob thought so, and he couldn't keep his eyes off her. It wasn't long before the girl (we'll call her Lucy) noticed that Bob was looking at her in a way that said as plainly as words, 'I admire you profoundly.' She blushed a little, looked away, then glanced side-wise at him again to see the same expression of admiration. She blushed again, which indicated that she reciprocated. At any rate Bob so interpreted it.""The maker of the will had left the bulk of his property to his only brother's son (we'll call him John Doe) and a small sum to Lucy, but as the brother had married beneath him the testator provided for a possible passing of all the property to the oldest son of his sister's child, Lucy. As it would be unsafe to leave the matter long open, Lucy not being married, the will provided that if Lucy were married when she came of age the estate was to be left in the hands of trustees for three years. If within that limit she had a son, the estate was to go to that son.""How old is the claimant?" asked the judge.
"She will be eighteen," replied her counsel despondently, "at noon today."
"Is she married?"
"No, your honor.""Then," said the judge deliberately,
"I see no reason why after the hour of noon I should not set aside her claim and give judgment for John Doe. In case there is no objection I will adjudge the court till 2 o'clock.""To see a fortune pass away from this lovely girl was too much for Bob. He was an impulsive fellow, prone to decide and act quickly. With scarcely a moment for reflection he grasped wildly for some method of delay. If the girl could appear to be married, she might at least effect a compromise by requiring her opponents to prove that she was not married. It was half past 10 o'clock, and her counsel would have three and a half hours to devise some plan. Bob as a lawyer knew this, and though the chance was slender, he staked all on a single desperate move.""Your honor," he said, rising, "the claimant is my wife.""Judge, attorney, spectators, turned to Bob in wonder.
"Have you proofs of your marriage?"
asked the judge.

"Not at hand."

"Is that man your husband?" asked the judge of Lucy."If ever there was irresistible appeal in a man's eyes, it was in Bob's when he turned them on Lucy. He could not say to her, 'This is merely to gain time,' so he gave her a look which meant, 'I beg of you not to deny what I have stated.' Lucy's eyes remained riveted to his. What was passing in her mind no one knew. She had a decision to make, and all waited breathlessly to hear it."

"Yes," she said.

"And you," said the judge, turning to Bob—"do you acknowledge this woman to be your wife?"

"I do."

"Then if you were not married before you are married now. I give judgment in favor of the claimant.""Then, and only then, Bob saw that his intent to stave off a decision had resulted in his marriage to a girl he had never seen before and had never spoken to.""When the court was adjourned, the claimant, her mother and Bob went into a private room for consultation.
All looked at Bob for an explanation.
He made a confession of the whole matter. There was nothing to be done but accept the situation. Bob's credentials were presented and found to be excellent, and the marriage was consummated."

"And turned out happily?"

"The couple have been and are devoted to each other.""But what right had the judge to marry them?""The secret of that is this: Bob was perfectly well known to him as a student of law (for the judge was a professor in the law school Bob attended) and had a very good opinion of the young man. More than that, the judge saw that a nice little girl was about to be deprived of a fortune for the want of a husband. He knew I was lying."The narrator stopped and coughed.
"You, father, you don't mean?""That I am Bob? Yes, I am. You should forgive your father for the lie my boy, because you are Lucy's oldest son, and by it I not only provided for your being, but gained you a fortune at the same time.""Father, I forgive you. There are times when a lie is invaluable."

15 DOCTORS GAVE HIM UP!

Blood Wine Saved Him—He Tells the Story of His Rescue from Death.

If winter has left you weak, feeble and diseased, Blood Wine will build you up and make you strong and healthy. There is not a medicine in the whole world that is as good for a run down condition as Blood Wine, because it begins at the very bottom of your trouble—the blood—and drives every particle of disease out of the system. If you are sick let your better judgment prevail regarding your treatment, stop and consider the effect of medicine on your disease. Do you want to be merely relieved—your disease scratched over the surface as it were—or do you want to go to the very bottom and get it entirely out of your system? If you will reason it out you will readily see why Blood Wine is so sure of effecting a cure. The testimonials from people cured by Blood Wine read like fairy tales, but every word of them is true—read a few of these in-dorsements, then draw your own conclusions. No matter what you have taken, don't give up before you try Blood Wine. 50c. a bottle

Most Wonderful Expression of Gratitude Ever Paid to Any Medicine.

When Mr. Carroll says "words fail to express"—he does not exaggerate one bit, for surely no words could express, with the full force of their meaning, this most remarkable cure effected for Mr. Carroll. Fancy a man having bowel trouble for nine months—being doctored by fifteen physicians, and operated upon by one of them who thought he had appendicitis, all without even bringing relief. Then imagine his surprise when his entire disease was checked by one bottle of "Blood Wine." Few people will appreciate this statement, for few will believe any medicine capable of performing such wonders. Yet it is true, and Mr. Carroll's appreciation knew no bounds when he was cured. So enthusiastic was he, that he came all the way to Worcester, Mass., from Michigan, to emphasize to the manufacturer of "Blood Wine" his narrow escape from the grave. Mr. Carroll is a business man of sterling integrity, whose word is as good as his bond to all who know him. This is the substance of his wonderful experience. He said:

"Words fail to express the benefit I have received from 'Blood Wine,' and I can honestly say that except for your remedy I should not today be alive."

For nine months I suffered continually from some serious stomach and bowel trouble which developed into chronic diarrhea and threatened my life. I consulted altogether fifteen doctors in various cities, and none gave me the slightest hope or relieved my distress. I was wasting gradually away, and each day saw me weaker. Fortunately I saw Blood Wine advertised and purchased a bottle. I had little faith, but took the medicine faithfully. It worked wonders and in three days the diarrhea ceased. In three weeks I had gained twenty-five pounds, and I have used 'Blood Wine' constantly since. I would not be without 'Blood Wine' at any cost, and I am perfectly honest when I tell the world that it saved my life."

Could Not Walk So Weak.

ONIDA, N. Y., Feb. 23, 1903.

Gentlemen:—I received your letter some time ago, and I am sorry to say that I neglected to answer in regard to my sickness. I do not know as I had any sickness except complete exhaustion. I was more overworked than anything else, as I did not have strength to walk. I commenced to take Blood Wine and it gave me strength so I could continue with my work. A friend of mine can say the same thing, as she has taken six bottles and is like a new person. I can say it is good medicine.

For 20 Years This Man Was In Agony.

Tiffin, Ohio, March 6, 1903.

I have been a sufferer from general debility, liver and kidney complaint, chills and fever, headache and lameness of the joints, cold hands and feet. I was a physical wreck; had been treated by some of our good doctors as could be found, and taken nearly all kinds of patent medicines, but it all availed nothing. I have spent hundreds of dollars trying to find a cure. This is a case of twenty years' standing. I got so far gone that I could not work more than six or eight hours per day, and would become perfectly exhausted. I was recommended by Messrs. Cline & Leroy to try your remedy, Blood Wine, which I am glad to state, has proved very satisfactory. I have gained strength, health, vigor, and am able to carry on my daily labor with the greatest ease. I would say that if this should reach the eyes of any sufferers from such complaints they

Was Weakened by Consumption Until She

Couldn't Raise Her Arms Above

Her Head.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 8, 1903.

Gentlemen:—In August last my daughter Elsie was taken with the typhoid fever, she was in the care of two physicians for about two months, expecting her to die every day. After the fever broke, both doctors said it had left her with the consumption and that it was only a question of a few days and that they could do nothing more for her. She then could not raise her hands over her head. My wife seeing an advertisement of Blood Wine in the papers suggested that we try it, as the doctors had ceased to give her any medicine. We commenced the Blood Wine with excellent results; after taking the first bottle she got out of bed and sat in an invalid chair, and after the second bottle she came down stairs, and kept on improving right along until she had taken six bottles, and now she is as well and strong as she ever was in her life, and if you should see her you would not think there were any signs of consumption.

After being given up by the doctors to die, Blood Wine spared her life and we feel very thankful. We have been using Blood Wine in the family and have told many friends of it, and they also find that it is a grand good medicine.

Yours truly,

Solemnly Swears That the Above is True—

WASHINGTON, D. C.

I can safely testify as to the truthfulness of every word of the above testimonial, as I have been a weekly visitor to the young lady's house for over four years in the capacity of an insurance collector, and having been a medical student at one time and knowing the nature of her disease I was as much astonished at the result of Blood Wine as were her attending physicians.

Fell Down Stairs—Disabled a Year—Could

Not Walk Until He Took Blood Wine.

343 Cherry St., COLUMBIA, Pa.

Gentlemen:—On the 7th of June, 1902, I had the misfortune to fall down stairs, and was confined to my bed two months, not being able to move either knee. About October 1st a friend recommended Blood Wine to me and I got a sample bottle. I have taken eight bottles and I am pleased to say that it has restored my health, and I now enjoy better health than ever before. I can walk fairly good and am improving in my general health, and I consider Blood Wine the best medicine to build up the system of both old and young people. I cheerfully recommend it to all people thus afflicted.

MRS. IRVING MACK.

I had the grip and it left me a perfect wreck," says Mrs. Irving Mack, of Cambridge, Mass. "My appetite was all gone; my nerves were all unstrung. I was wasted to a skeleton. Everybody said to me, 'You look like a ghost.' I couldn't sleep. I struggled against my suffering, despite their growing intensity, but I failed completely, and I made up my mind that unless I soon received help I must die.

The medicines I took seemed to do me no good, and I was truly a pitiable object.

I was white as a sheet and so weak I could hardly walk along the street without staggering. My friends were constantly telling me that I had consumption or some mysterious incurable disease. At length, through the blessing of Divine Providence, I heard of the discovery of a medicine which would do wonderful things.

This medicine was called 'Blood Wine.' I sent for some of it and began to take it, and the result was simply marvellous. As true as I live, that medicine alone entirely cured me and made me a well woman.

Lots of my neighbors who know all about it will stand by me in everything I have said. My health is now excellent, and I do my work with a light heart and a strong body. People need not talk about medicines. The medicine for all who are sick is 'Blood Wine.'

SUGGESTION

By a Newark Woman Who Has a New Easter Gown—A Pointer for Some Business Men

Here is an Easter Suggestion written for the Advocate by "a woman with a new Easter gown." While the Advocate does not make a practice of printing anonymous communications (the writer's name is always wanted, not for publication, but as an evidence of good faith) an exception is made in the case of "a woman with a new Easter gown," as she has a point well taken. It is for the business men of Newark, as follows:

Last Sunday when daintily clad women were on their way to church, they had a hard time getting through the dirt, dust and paper that the wind insisted upon raising from the gutters where some of the business men around the square had swept them the night before, after cleaning their stores, and left them to the first wind that came along, not only to scatter dirt, dust and filth over clean clothing and clean faces, but to carry disease germs wherever they might choose to make a home. A great many merchants after sweeping out their stores take the dirt back and have it carried away. Why cannot all of them do this, instead of leaving it in the gutters? If it were possible to have the streets swept every night, the results of depositing the dirt in the gutters would be different, but until this is possible, why cannot this dirt be otherwise disposed of? What would people say if every housewife after sweeping her house and yard would leave this dirt in her gutter? Cannot we have clean streets Easter when nearly every woman expects to wear a new gown or a new hat. Last Sunday's streets would have ruined them.
